Dear Handball Friends,

The sport of handball is becoming more and more professional, with professionalism being increasingly expected from, - and found among - not only players but also officials and staff.

In 1997, the European Handball Federation conducted in conjunction with its associates in the Committee, in the Commissions, and at the EHF Office another full programme of competitions. This involved 1000 matches played in the European Cup, in the European Championships for EC-winner clubs, in the Youth European Championships and in the various qualifying events for 1998. Beyond that, our „Creative Team“ launched projects and numerous initiatives supplementing the work done by the Member Federations. Above all especially the „Development Project“, with its manifold activities, constitutes a steadily growing part of the budget and our daily work. Action was also taken to implement the „Advancement Plan for Women“.

However an important part of our activities, however, is looking to the future. The need for our sport to „play its part in the concert of sports“ in the media caused us to review our own position, specifically in the area of major events such as the Women's and Men's European Championships.

Broadly-based working groups, with participants from 22 Member Federations, and representatives from the media, marketing and interest groups discussed the European Championships of the future. The result will be presented at the 1998 EHF Congress in Budapest.

At the same time, the EHF, in association with organizers, will intensify its efforts to turn the European Championships into a „special experience“. The motto for next year is therefore

Please refer to this Annual report for 1997 facts and figures .

The Annual Report, however, also bears witness to the efforts of all those who work for handball: players, referees, delegates, the officials and employees of clubs, Member Federations, and EHF bodies.

It is to all of them, as well as to our partners in the media and in the business community, that we offer our thanks and best wishes for another year of professional co-operation in 1998.

EHF INFO SYSTEM

INTERNET

Since June 20, 1997 you can find the EHF homepage in the internet by choosing the address www.eurohandball.com. It is also possible to send e-mails to the address office@eurohandball.com.

Together with our partner company EOS Data the EHF Info System had to be adapted by changing many tables being the basis of the EHF database. It was the aim of the EHF to create an internet homepage which is structured clearly and where the access to a certain topic is as quick as possible. On the other hand we wanted to ensure that all necessary information is available via internet, too. That was the reason why we started later than estimated as the test phase took very long time. The result of the changes is the system you can see below:

On our homepage you can find a couple of fields of the activities of the EHF, as there are club competitions, international team competitions, addresses, calendar dates and a window we call "infos & news".

The most important field of information by EHF is match results. The EHF takes care for a continuous updating in a 4 hours rhythm from 6:00 a.m to 10 p.m. Directly after a draw you can find the results of the draw on our web site. From this time all changes as there are referee nomination, playing dates and so on are entered continuously.

Of course, to have the chance to keep the database actual after the matches it is necessary to receive the match reports as soon as possible. That leads to problems sometimes. Therefore we plan to install a voice receiver system to enable the EHF delegates to enter the results into our database via telephone.

In connection with matches you can find information by clicking the calendar button, too. Here you can see general information such as playing dates and venues of matches as well as general information on other events related to handball. In a next step links will be activated to homepages of the organizers of events if a homepage is available. An internal link to the respective match dates will be installed. The calendar information is sorted whether nation by nation or following the dates.

The address page shows the addresses of the members of EHF bodies as well as the member federations' addresses. If the EHF is informed on a federations' homepage address an external link is activated. Of course there is also an external link to the IHF.

"Infos & News" show general information on EHF publications, previews for draws and EHF activities.

At this status of development the EHF is creating a players database. This is to get information on all player dates related to ECh finals on the one hand in order to enable our partners of the University Gdansk to build up the statistic database of the ECH final rounds. On the other hand the players database will ease the handling of international transfers and the EC players lists.

Last but not least – National Federations still have the possibility to update their local databases by direct modem connection to the EHF within our EHF Info System.

2nd EHF Marketing Seminar

March 8th, 1997
Bucharest / ROM

In November '95 the EHF conducted the 1st Marketing Seminar in Vienna / AUT. The goal of this Seminar, as part of the EHF Development Project, was "to find ways of helping Member Federations which are in need and which want assistance". It was the first attempt to assist the new Member Federations in finding ways to raise financial funds.

The seminar turned out to be very helpful for many Federations so much so that the EHF decided to organize a "Follow-Seminar" on March 8th, 1997 in co-operation with the Rumanian Handball Federation. While the goal of the seminar stayed basically the same the approach was different, more pragmatic:

On the basis of actual information concerning the new Member Federations - especially Rumania - 2 marketing specialists from the EHF marketing partner CWL-Lüthi, Klaus Anders and Horst Lichtner, presented a plan of action to raise money and to utilize the existing possibilities, how ever limited they might be.

Co-operation between EHF and the University Gdansk / POL

Based on a proposal from the EHF Methods Commission the EHF Committee decided in its meeting on February 15th, 1997 upon concluding an external partnership of co-operation with the University Gdansk / POL ( rector Janusz Czerwinski ). This mainly focuses on scientific research and development work in the field of handball methods and training. It is the aim of the EHF to make use of external resources and experts in order to execute projects more efficiently in the future for the benefit of handball, especially in the fields of methods and training. One of the possible areas of co-operation with the University Gdansk could be:

The development and adaptation of a computerized statistics system for match observations have been used in the 1996 Women's Junior ECh in POL, in the 1997 Youth EChs in AUT and EST (quantitative ECh analysis) and will be utilized in the 1998 Men's ECh in ITA.

- ❶ The software of the computerized statistic system for match observation is based on the one used in the 1996 Women's Junior ECh in POL.
- ❷ It has been adapted to the new handball rules effective since August 1st, 1997.
- ❸ A list of criteria has been worked out by the EHF - MC and has been included in the development of the system.
- ❹ Based on the experience of the 1997 Youth EChs further adaptations have been made in order to improve the effectiveness of the system to be used in the 1998 EChs.

For the 1998 European Championships the EHF - Methods Commission offers the organizers (ITA, NED, SVK, AUT) a uniform statistic system for computerized match observation. This will be achieved by means of the official co-operation between EHF and the University School of Physical Education in Gdansk / POL. In future EChs this statistics software will be used in combination with a qualitative match analysis based on an appropriate video coverage of the ECh final rounds. Both measures should enable the EHF to evaluate and record all data from EChs more accurately in the future, not only for coaching and refereeing, but also for the media and teaching aid production.

A 2nd project is focused on the documentation of the ECh data since 1992 including an operable database for selecting parameters of interest for the media, TV. This will be used for the first time in the 1998 European Championships. Based on the official match documents ( players' lists, match reports, and result bulletins ) a database is to be developed by the University Gdansk in order to record all data concerning ECh pre-qualification, qualification and final rounds starting with the first official EChs in 1992. The documents are provided by EHF.

The project is aimed at a quick selection of data concerning ECh statistics in general ( venues, spectators, etc., ), result service, participation of teams, players and referees and some parameters concerning performance such as the number of goals scored by players, etc. This provides the media with fore-mentioned information prior to the respective ECh event in the future. The selection criteria will be defined by the EHF and should be included into the development of the database. A further goal of this project is the constant up-date of the ECh database in the future and the quick access to the database via Internet.

1997 EHF Youth Champions Tournament for Club Teams adidas Cup

The EHF Office

The increasing professionalism in handball brings about higher demands towards our daily work and administration such as the execution of decisions or the organization of European Competitions.

That is why the project of the new EHF house - the completion of the building as well as moving into it are scheduled for April 1998 - has also led to a re-organization of the office structure, which now consists of three departments - competitions, methods & development and organization.

Although we had to cope with some changes in our office staff, the attitude of our staff members has remained unchanged: offensive handling of questions and problems, fast and open information - in short acting as a service institution in handball.

Throughout the year up-to-date information and match results are available on the EHF Internet Homepage:

If you want to have more facts, figures or information that are not included in our 1997 Annual Report, do not hesitate to contact us by phone, fax or e-mail.
